

The Hotel d'Angleterre and Other Stories

by Lanoe Falconer (1848 - 1908)

“The Hotel d’Angleterre”, “The Violin Obligato”, “A Rainy Day”, “Granny Lovelock At Home”, “Miss Audrey At Home.”

Five short stories by Lanoe Falconer – the pseudonym of the English writer Marie Elizabeth Hawker. Her works, though few, were well received. Never married, her health was precarious, preventing her from writing more, though she wished to. She died of tuberculosis, as did her brother.

Total running time: 3:12:32

Read by David Wales

Cover design by Kathryn Delaney

The Hotel d'Angleterre & other stories

Lanoe Falconer

The Hotel d'Angleterre & other stories

Lanoe Falconer